

Our Services \ Installation and Commissioning

Hanningfield's dedication to quality extends not only to its products, but also to the services it is able to offer. Each of Hanningfield's engineers is highly skilled and vastly experienced; a consequence of regular training and many years of expertise. This ensures that Hanningfield is able to consistently surpass customer's expectations both on time and on budget.

Hanningfield is able to supply a comprehensive documentation and commissioning package including IQ/OQ documents, material certificates, CE conformity declaration and O&M manuals etc. IQ/OQ validation can be offered with one of Hanningfield's engineers to assist with validation procedures.

Quality control documentation highlights Hanningfield's ability to meet its customer's expectations. Hanningfield's engineers fully understand the special requirements of working in industries that necessitate high levels of integrity and discipline to meet the expected standards.